

Tiger's weekly newsletter

26.9.19

This week we have been learning lots of nursery rhymes. The challenges this week included making a nursery rhyme book, matching rhyming words, cutting out Humpty Dumpty and building towers with different numbers of lego or bricks.

Thank you to everyone who has read with their child or practised their reading words at home. Lots of children can already read some or all of their words! Please ensure you write in their reading records every time you read their book/words with them. When children can read some tricky words, segment and blend some sounds or match sounds to letters they will bring home a reading book with words to practice these skills. Please ensure they bring their word key rings everyday so we can add more words when they are ready for them.

We have several jumpers and cardigans with no names in – please ask if one of these might be yours and please try and label everything.

We are getting very low on recyclable resources for making models – please save and send in cardboard boxes, clean bottle tops and lids, cardboard tubes and anything else you think we could use.
